Regulatory Compliance

Extensive experience in the food industry in the areas of food safety program development, implementation and maintenance. Including the Canadian Food Inspection Agency's Safe Food for Canadians Regulation licensing requirements and to achieve certification to British Retail Consortium (BRC), Food Safety Systems Certification 22000 (FSSC 22000) and Safe Quality Food (SQF) food safety standards. Assuring compliance to regulatory requirements including: product labeling, product formulation and assuring standards of identity are met.

My other services include: specialized on site training delivery, site reviews of facility structure, equipment layout and programs (also known as a gap assessment) which measures your current facility and food safety programs against a food safety standard that you need to meet in order to satisfy your target buyer.

Navigate is a solution based company that offers coaching, training and expert guidance in food safety management.

Our processes are scalable and our work spans small enterprises with less than 10 employees to multi site organizations with 50 or more sites. We work with customers to build programs based on the reality in the facility. Our online trainings are practical, easy to digest and designed to actually make a difference in the plant.

Our mission is to bring simplicity to food safety management and to build capacity in your team to manage programs as part of their daily routine. Compliance is built into the everyday.

We specialize in standards benchmarked to the Global Food Safety Initiative (GFSI) such as BRC, SQF, FSSC22000.

We are here to support your efforts to produce safe quality food in the most efficient and effective way. Your food safety challenges are what gets us excited!

Archibald Analytics, Inc is consultant and coaching practice that works with companies that have a technically viable product or service but lack the capacity to design and execute a viable go-to-market strategy. This can range from formulating a technical idea into a commercially viable product, establishing product/market fit, finding customers, setting pricing/costing/marketing strategies, or determining the best sales channels and distribution options. If the product has some early commercial success, the challenge is often growing sales profitably and managing channel partners.

We developed our expertise by doing, not theorizing from over 40 years of direct experience selling food products to leading retailers, food service distributors and further processors in North America.

word-craft is a social media marketing agency that specializes in organic social media strategy, content creation and community management. Helping businesses take the guesswork out of social media is what drives us, whether that means a full strategic plan, creating and posting your social media content, answering all your comments and messages in English and French or helping your existing team up their social media game.

Organic social media is different from selling on social media. Your social media ads will sell your product or service, but organic social media is all about community building. Your organic social media content will engage your community of loyal fans so they become advocates for your company in an organic way.
